

The area known as Paddy's Swamp (now Caulfield Park) was reserved as a permanent park and watering place in 1866. Caulfield Park was made a permanent public reserve in 1879.

Most of the large trees at the western end of the Park are around 100 years old. The Park has more different species of native and exotic plants than in any other park in Victoria excepting only the Royal Botanic Gardens.

Walk one

Begin at the car park adjacent to the Caulfield Park Sports Club.

Enter the picnic area and take the path to your left toward the wisteria arbour. The wisteria flowers in spring. Walk around the lake until you come to a five way junction and the Wild Plum (3). Walk to the Caulfield Park War Memorial or take a seat at the lake. Continue around the lake where you can observe many ducks and geese or continue onto walk two.

Walk two

Cross the junction and continue on the left path to the Lone Pine planted to commemorate 100 years since the ANZAC landing at Gallipoli. When you reach the next junction, turn right to head back towards the lake through the avenue of elms or take walk three to Aviary Garden.

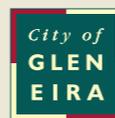

Walk three

At the junction, continue along the path towards Inkerman Road and the Aviary Garden which contains Australian native plants. Here you will also find a playground, accessible toilet and a sheltered picnic area. Retrace your steps to return to the main walk.

These short walks have been developed to encourage people of all ages and abilities to enjoy our parks and open spaces.
